Southwest Florida Symphony Sanibel Series

Sanibel Series Season Tickets on Sale Now!

Get up close and personal with the Southwest Florida Symphony as Music Director Michael Hall and the Chamber Orchestra bring a diverse mix of music to the stage. Performed at Schein Hall on Sanibel, the series offers an intimate opportunity for the audience to experience music in a more personal setting.

“Our Sanibel Series concerts offer the audience a chance to get up close and personal with the orchestra. The venue lends itself the opportunity for me to talk more in depth about the music,” explains Hall. “It is my hope that this will enable the listener to get even more out of their concert experience.”

“The Prodigies” celebrate the musical genius of three composers and their musical treasures they left behind. The season opener on November 2 features Mozart’s clarinet concerto, one of his last completed works, an early Beethoven Symphony and a masterful piece by the short-lived young composer, Arriaga, considered “The Spanish Mozart.” Principal Clarinet Michael Forte will be the featured soloist.

The sounds of Jazz fill the air in the February 8 series concert featuring musical favorites in “A Jazzy Journey.” Steven Mayer, hailed for his awe-inspiring artistry, commands the piano performing the original version of Gershwin’s “Rhapsody in Blue.”

Music explodes from the stage in the final series concert March 22: “Musical Triumph.” The orchestra celebrates the triumph of battle through pieces such as Handel’s “Royal Fireworks Music” and Haydn’s dramatic “Lord Nelson Mass” featuring the majestic vocals of the Southwest Florida Symphony Chamber Chorus and soloists.

The Southwest Florida Symphony Sanibel Series concerts are held at Schein Hall in BIG ARTS! on Sanibel. All concerts begin at 7 PM. The three concert series tickets are $75 and single tickets are $30. Call the Southwest Florida Symphony Box Office at 418-1500.
